

It was Sum Fun To Watch

Congratulations to Greg and Susan Watson, owners of Full Circle Farm and breeders of Sum Fun To Watch. Jockey Ramon Dominguez, brought the two-year-old Quarter Horse gelding home a winner in the Alex Picov Memorial Futurity by a head at Ajax Downs. The race, with a total gross purse value of $131,000, is one of Canada's richest Quarter Horse races.

Greg Watson trained the homebred, relying on growing and racing rations from Brooks Feed Store. From birth to success as a two-year old Sum Fun To Watch has been raised on a Phase feeding program along with Brooks/KER supplements.

Watson, a territory manager with Brooks also relied on Brooks growth tracking services to monitor his future champions growth.

Good breeding, sound nutrition and quality training and management. Greg Watson has many reasons to cheer Sum Fun To Watch

Owners Greg and Sue Watson are quick to credit Brooks/KER products for the success of Sum Fun To Watch. "He was raised on Brooks/KER feeds and supplements from in utero," Sue pointed out. "His success is a testament to the performance and the quality of the products. We use them because they work"
