

Brooks Release helps Control this “Chick”

Feeding a barrel horse can present a real challenge for a nutrition advisor. How do you supply the energy to fuel the enormous power, speed and propulsion necessary to successfully compete and still have a controllable horse under you? Melanie Deforges of Ottawa, Ontario had wondered the same when she first talked to Tania Laframboise a Brooks Feed nutrition advisor from the Embrun Co-op. With Tania's help Melanie is having her best season ever in 2010. This is what Melanie had to say about Brooks and how Tania helped get her mare Royal Flexy Chick in the right frame of mind.

“It's because of the support I get from a great team that I can realize this lifelong dream. I was looking for a feed that would give Chick all the nutrition she needs and give me all the control I need in one formula. I needed a feed that would maximize her performance. That's when I talked to Tania Laframboise, an equine nutrition consultant with Embrun Co-op, and she said Brook's Release (Un-Ti) would do the trick.

It's a very concentrated formula that I give in smaller quantities. Her performance and fitness are at the desired level and it's less expensive than what I was doing before. One formula at the right amount! I saw a lot of positive changes but to me the time for the recuperation of her muscle energy between runs is the best feature. She is ready to go again much faster than before and she runs as hard the last go as she did the first. I'm extremely happy with the results. Thanks to all of the Brooks team!”

Mélanie Desforges

We at Brooks are thrilled that “Chick” is doing so well for Melanie. Even more satisfying is how much joy she gets from competing. Thanks for the inspiring words Melanie. Take her home!

It's what we do!
