The Stable in Unstable

The name Wendigo Farms is striking a chord of recognition amongst equine enthusiasts across North America because of the highly rated CMT show “Unstable.” But behind the promos and the Wendigo Wear are some very accomplished individuals determined to build Wendigo into a world-class show barn.

Allie shows good form on Patten

Allie Zlepnic is the coach and trainer at Wendigo. At the age of four Allie started an equestrian career that has taken her from the Ottawa Trillium Circuit to West Palm Beach, training with Nona Garson of the USET, and then back to Canada to study dressage under Nancy Maclachlan. In between Allie studied marketing and advertising at Northwood University in West Palm Beach and McMaster University in Hamilton.

Allie lists some very accomplished equestrians as influences throughout her career including Laurel Myers, Ian Millar, Jill Henselwood, and Eric Lamaze, as well as the her coaches. Allie utilizes her extensive knowledge and experience to train horses and to coach Wendigo clients at all levels.

Tammy Crisafi lists herself as the business side of the partnership, utilizing her accounting background to keep tabs on the intricate financial details involved in running a successful equine business. Tammy is also an accomplished equestrian, having learned the art of riding from coaches Kelly Currie, Margie Gayford, and Karen Lemming. Tammy and Allie depend on Jennalyn Webber to manage the farm’s horses including those in their breeding program.

The high visibility and success of the TV show makes the condition of the horses at Wendigo Farm of utmost importance. Here is what Allie had to say about the contribution Brooks Feeds has made to the farm.

“I’ve had my horses on various feeds over the past few years to maximize their weight, appearance, and performance. My one stallion Patten always seemed to lack energy, and DeNiro my hunter gelding always seemed so scrawny and small. After switching over to Brooks Feeds, I’ve seen a huge difference in their look and performance. My hunter is gaining the weight he needs without becoming too “hot” and my stallion is maintaining his weight and energy level without being unmanageable. Brooks Feeds have made a huge difference in my other horses as well. I’m very pleased with the results.”

Congratulations Allie and Tammy on the success of the show. We’re glad that you have made Brooks Feeds a part of your plan and we hope that your dream of having a world-class equestrian facility will become a true reality for you.
